GEORGIA (March 21, 2023) - Gwinnett County resident Joel Stanley Rosenbaum, age 65, has been missing since Jan. 26, 2023. He is highly respected at his workplace, a sports memorabilia enthusiast and a true lover of animals! Joel always names his pet dogs after military veterans or pro athletes who are great role models to our youth. As a young man, Joel was an accomplished athlete and nationally ranked weightlifter.

Hundreds of caring people have been searching North Georgia, where Joel was last seen. "We are retracing Joel's steps," states Private Investigator T.J. Ward, "and are accessing every possible resource to bring him back home. We have expert trackers with specialized skills sets that many law enforcement agencies lack." A Georgia Officer of the Law for nearly 50 years, including more than four decades as a private detective, T.J. and his team have solved hundreds of cases. He is regularly called upon by Fox News, CNN, ABC, CBS, NBC, and other media outlets as an investigative expert.

"Joel has always been that friend who is there for you when it matters the most," says Mark Rothstein, Joel's best friend of 50 years. "He has a heart made of gold. On special occasions – birthdays, holidays or just because – Joel always has gifts for everyone in the room. His middle name should be The Giver!" Mark adds, "Presently, Joel is emotionally distressed and very confused."

Joel is a white male with brown eyes and brown hair. He is 5-feet-6-inches in height and weighs 150 pounds. He may be unshaven. Joel was last seen in Clarkesville, Georgia wearing a long sleeve Atlanta Falcons shirt, black pants, a black belt and black and white tennis shoes. He may be suffering from a type of dementia, as he can become very confused, disoriented, delusional, and afraid – but, never violent. Joel does not drink, smoke or take drugs.

Joel's family, friends and co-workers are asking for your assistance to bring Joel home, to get him the medical care which he wants and needs.
